Dual-Certification

READY TO WORK! APPROVED TRAINING PROVIDER

A Medical Assistant and Phlebotomy Technician is a healthcare professional trained to support physicians, nurses, and patients in medical offices, clinics, hospitals, and other healthcare settings. They perform clinical duties such as taking vital signs, preparing patients for examinations, assisting with medical procedures, collecting patient histories, and drawing blood through venipuncture. They also collect, label, and prepare blood and other specimens for laboratory testing while following proper infection-control and patient-safety procedures. Additionally, they may perform administrative tasks such as scheduling appointments, maintaining medical records, and coordinating patient care.
